The primary goal of the Office of Residential Life at Monmouth University is to provide a unique opportunity for students to gain a variety of experiences that supplement and complement what they learn in the classroom. The department strives to meet the many and varied needs of students who are diverse in their personal histories and backgrounds. The residential life staff strives to develop an environment that is supportive of students’ academic endeavors and that promotes individual development. It is expected that students will act as adults in a mature and responsible manner and contribute to their hall community, since involvement is essential to their personal development and growth.

Additionally, the program includes developing communities that emphasize the acceptance of responsibility for personal and group decision making, mutual respect, concern, a sense of cooperation and sharing, and the empowerment of students to become active and participating members of the residence halls and local communities. The residential life program also includes providing safe, clean, and comfortable facilities.

Jim Pillar is the Assistant Vice President for Student Services and has been involved with Residential Life since he began his career at Monmouth in 1995. Before arriving at Monmouth, Jim worked in Residential Life at Seton Hall University. In his current capacity, Jim supervises eight residential life administrators and two support staff, in addition to his “parental-like role” to 1900 students.

Jim completed his undergraduate degree at Millersville University in Pennsylvania and credits the wonderful mentors there for his decision to follow his heart and pursue a career in higher education. Jim says that his relationships at Millersville really impacted his life. He went on to obtain his MBA at West Chester University.

Jim loves his work even though his job is not the typical 9-5 variety. “Working in residential life is a 24/7, 365 days a year job. We are never closed, even holidays, always on-call for our students and whatever issue they may be facing.” Over the years Jim has kept in touch with many students, attending graduations, weddings, christenings and other important events in their lives.

Jim is extremely proud of the growth in the department. When he arrived at Monmouth, he had a very small staff which has grown considerably. He credits the successes of Residential Life to a very hardworking, competent and caring staff that works very well together. “Our hands-on approach is very effective with the students.”

Jim grew up in New Jersey. He has two sisters and many nieces and nephews. He and his partner reside in West Long Branch and have two dogs. In his spare time Jim likes to ski and is looking forward to doing a little traveling this summer. Jim also has a real estate license in the state of New Jersey.

Mark Holfelder is the Associate Director of Residential Life and has been at Monmouth for almost nine years, all of which has been in the Office of Residential Life. Before arriving at Monmouth, Mark spent several years in residential life at Fairleigh Dickinson University, Madison campus and Seton Hall University and says, “MU is the best place to be; the University is always looking out for its students.” Mark grew up in South Jersey and received his bachelor’s degree from Widener University and his master’s degree from West Chester University, both in eastern Pennsylvania. Mark chose a career in higher education, specifically residential life, for the rewards of seeing a “green” student grow and learn and know that you had a part in that process. “We see a side of the student that parents and professors do not.”

Mark credits the success of the program with the interaction and support it receives from many departments on campus, such as Student Services, University Police, Counseling and Psychological Services, Facilities Management, LCAC, EOF and First Year. In his position as Associate Director, Mark is responsible for the staffing and training of all residence hall administrators. “We provide between 400-500 programs each year to the students; everything from social gatherings to help unite floors to resume writing, health issues and yoga.”

In Baltimore, Mark has two younger sisters and his mom, who keeps him “on his toes”. Mark is an avid sports fanatic with college basketball and football as his favorites. He’s been to numerous NCAA Final Fours, most recently in San Antonio. His office is an array of pictures of the many sporting events he has attended. Mark currently resides in one of the University’s off-campus buildings and says, “If you can live where you work, you can do anything!”

Ray Gonzalez is the Assistant Director for Residential Life and Housing Operations and is beginning his fifth year at Monmouth University. In his current position, Ray oversees the housing process for all incoming and continuing housing students, both on- and off-campus. He believes that the department plays a vital role in student’s experiences, from the mundane to the personal to the educational.

Ray grew up in the Bronx and received his bachelor's degree in psychology from Binghamton University. He went on to complete his postgraduate degree in higher education administration at Syracuse University. Before arriving at Monmouth, Ray spent three years in residential life at Colgate University. All three schools are located in New York. As a student, Ray was very involved in campus life and believes that by working in residential life he can help shape worthwhile college experiences for students.

Living among the students can be very challenging, especially with the open door policy of the residential life staff. “The hardest part is making decisions that are best for everyone.” Ray can be credited with the streamlined housing process recently implemented within residential life. Technology has helped the communication process tremendously.

Ray lives in West Long Branch and in his spare time enjoys bicycling to Sandy Hook. He collects movies on DVD, mostly action and adventure and also collects Pez dispensers. He loves the outdoors, especially hiking.

Megan Jones was recently appointed Assistant Director for Residential Life and Judicial Affairs, after first serving as a residential life administrator. In her current position, she works closely with Judicial Affairs in hearing cases involving student disciplinary issues. She also supervises the hall directors on three on-campus buildings: Great Lawn and Garden Apartments and Maplewood.

Megan joined the Monmouth University Office of Residential Life in August 2000. She completed her undergraduate work at Douglass College at Rutgers University and received her MS Ed from Monmouth. She loves working in residential life because it is always challenging and never predictable, which makes coming to work so enjoyable. Megan sees the department as a very cohesive unit. “Not only do we work together but we also choose to spend time together. The department eats lunch as a group every day.”

Megan grew up in Bogota and now resides in West Long Branch. She has one brother, and three nieces and a nephew. Megan enjoys riding her bicycle to Sandy Hook and is an accomplished athlete. She plays basketball in the Monmouth County Women's Basketball League and also plays softball in a league.

Eric Mochnac is a residential life administrator, who joined Monmouth in January 2005. Eric supervises approximately 450 students in on-campus housing in Spruce, Laurel and Redwood Halls. He has nine resident assistants who help with the day-to-day functions. Eric completed his bachelor's degree in Communications and a minor in Philosophy at Seton Hall University, where he was also an RA.

He credits the youth of the department as part of the success. The students feel a connection and see the ability of the staff to relate to their issues. One of the hardest parts of the job is to learn what can and cannot be controlled. However, the recognition that he has had an impact on a student's college experience far outweighs everything.

Chris had a key role in the summer training program for RAs and is an accomplished athlete. He plays basketball at the Monmouth University Year Experience program.

Corey Inzana is another residential life administrator responsible for approximately 290 students that reside in Pinewood and Willow Halls. Corey has been employed at Monmouth University for two years and he grew up in Rochester, New York.

Corey completed his bachelor's degree at Quinnipiac University and, as a student, worked as an RA. He also spent time living in Nicaragua helping to build a school for the community. It was there that Corey made the “pay it forward” mentality part of his mantra.

As a residential life administrator, Corey enjoys helping students to see their own self-worth. Corey credits the success of the department to the intricate and crucial roles that all residential life staff play. “Without all the pieces, we do not work as well.”

Corey enjoys spending time at the beach and playing ice hockey. Corey was recently married to Kristin Bettin and realizes that living in a college setting and being a newlywed is an adventure that he and Kristin are enjoying.

Bradley Bennett is one of the newer residential life administrators who joined the Office of Residential Life in July of 2006. He is responsible for 100 on-campus students housed in the Garden and Great Lawn apartments along with 300 students in the off-campus facilities: Fountain Gardens, Pier Village and the Diplomat.

Brad grew up in Freehold and attended Salisbury University in Maryland where he completed his undergraduate degree. Brad also earned a Master's degree in Higher Education/Student Personnel Services at the University of Mississippi. His experiences as a student and the mentors he had were “phenomenal” and led him to choose his career. “Working in Residential Life has been great. I receive lots of support from my co-workers and supervisor and the camaraderie of the department is very positive,” says Brad.

Brad loves the beach and spending time with friends. He plays basketball and volleyball and loves to watch just about any sport. He recently ran the half-marathon in Long Branch. He boasts that his team won second place for spirit at the Relay for Life hosted by Monmouth in April.

Chris McKittrick is another new member of the Residential Life staff. Like Brad, he joined the department in July of 2006. While Chris supervises Elmwood Hall, the largest residence hall for first year students, he also oversees Honors housing in Birch Hall and sophomores living in the renovated Beechwood Hall.

Chris completed both his undergraduate and graduate degree at The College of New Jersey. He has a bachelor's degree in mathematics and physics but realized his personality did not fit with the profile for the field. Subsequently, he completed a Master's in Counseling Substance Abuse and Addictions and is thinking about pursuing a second Master's. While in the graduate program at TCNJ, Chris was a graduate assistant for residence life and worked intricately in the Sophomore Year Experience program.

Chris loves working in residential life and says, “There is never a dull day. The stories of the day-to-day events are always entertaining.” Chris had a key role in the summer training program for RAs and is proud of the caliber of students that the department has retained. Chris loves the Jersey shore and the beach. He is an avid jogger and enjoys cooking and gardening.

Elizabeth Anton is a residential life administrator and has been with the University for two years. She is responsible for student staffing and programming and coordinates with Judicial Affairs. Liz also supervises two on campus buildings and is the advisor to the Resident Hall Association.

Liz graduated from the State University of New York at Oneonta with a bachelor's degree in Child and Family Studies and a minor in English. She spent time as a Hall Director at the College of New Rochelle and Roger Williams University in Rhode Island before arriving at Monmouth University. Her experiences as an RA led her to her chosen field in Liz loves working with the students, watching them grow. “Every day at my job is different, always something new to tackle and never boring.” Liz is currently attending Monmouth in the MS Ed program. She loves to read and fish.

Bob Noren is the newest member of the Residential Life team. He is the Residential Life Assistant and is the first point of contact for phone calls and walk-ins. He talks at length daily to both students and parents about their housing questions. He began at Monmouth as a temporary employee and joined the department in this past April. Bob spent 40 years in the corporate world in customer service before arriving at Monmouth.

Bob enjoys the problem solving aspect of his position and dealing face-to-face with the public. He claims he is still “learning the ropes” of Residential Life and appears to be calm and unphased by the rapid pace of the department.

Bob and his wife Joyce reside in Hazlet and have one daughter. He enjoys traveling and has been to every state except Hawaii and even spent one month traveling cross-country.

Linda Ganghamer is the mainstay of the department, having spent the last ten years in the Residential Life Office. Her responsibilities include fielding phone calls, computer data entry and working with the housing lottery “wish list”. The wish list contains all the roommate requests made by students which the department tries to accommodate.

Linda always worked in an educational environment, spending time as an aide in a handicapped program before arriving at Monmouth. Her current position is the first job she applied for at Monmouth and she has never looked back. She loves her job and the people she works with and also loves helping the students.

Linda has always been very involved in the Monmouth community. She and her husband Todd have three children who have all attended the University. Lyndsey graduated and works for CBS, Susan was also a student here and played field hockey and now is a teacher and Todd is currently a sophomore.

Linda loves cooking Italian food and spending time with her family. She and her girls love to shop. To relax and unwind Linda enjoys watching a good movie or taking a drive to the beach.

Login Change for Outlook Web Access

We will begin upgrading to Microsoft Exchange 2007 with our first phase by replacing the Exchange 2003 Outlook Web Access (OWA) interface with the new Exchange 2007 version. The new login page is slightly different than the previous version but functionality is identical.

With this latest version you will need to specify your username in the monmouth@username or hawkdom2@username format in order to access your e-mail and calendar when you are away from your desk or are off-campus. Outlook Web Access is available at the following address:

http://exchange.monmouth.edu

If you have any questions, please contact the Help Desk at extension 3539.
Everyone enjoyed a beautiful spring day in New York City on Saturday, May 17th when we went to Broadway to see "A Chorus Line". This trip was sold out.

On Sunday, June 29th we visited the Bronx Zoo and the New York Botanical Garden. We had two full buses and a wonderful time.

We have discounted tickets to Six Flags Great Adventure for sale. The 3 Park Season Pass, which entitles you to visit the Theme Park, the Safari and Hurricane Harbor, is $115.00 per pass; the Season Pass for the Theme Park & Safari is $85.00 per pass; regular daily admission tickets for the Theme Park and Safari have just been discount further to $28.00 per ticket.

We are planning our events for the Fall and Winter. We will be hosting Lunch and Learn sessions on The American Cancer Society Relay For Life so all departments can participate in our 2009 Relay For Life on campus.

Please continue to use the Plum Benefits entertainment discount offers, the Buyer’s Edge purchasing discounts and the no closing cost offered to all of our employees by Consumers Mortgage Corporation. We also have discount movie tickets for sale in Human Resources.

If you have any suggestions please contact Sharon Smith by emailing ssmith@monmouth.edu or by calling extension 7594.

The form and is also available on-line at: http://www.monmouth.edu/resources/services/controller/payroll.asp
Employees must attach a cancelled check for a checking account or provide the account number and the ABA number for a savings account, up to a maximum of three (3) accounts. Please note that any form that is submitted will supersede all previous forms. If a partial deposit is being made, the remaining balance will be given to the employee by check. Please note that:
• Activation of this direct deposit may take up to three (3) pay periods.
• Until the direct deposit account is activated, employees will receive a paycheck in their pay envelope. Be sure to review contents of this envelope before discarding and the direct deposit goes into effect.
• There may be a delay of one (1) day for funds deposited in banks other than Monmouth University's.
• If any of your banking information changes, it is imperative that you notify the Payroll Department immediately. Failure to do so may cause a delay in you receiving your pay.
• The program is now open to all employees, including adjunct professors.
• If you become an inactive employee for one or more semesters, it is recommended that you contact the Payroll Department to verify that we still have your correct information. Inactivity could cause the banking information to be removed from the system.
If there is a question concerning the deposit of your payroll check, contact your bank or the Payroll Department at extension 3469.

New Mileage Reimbursement Rate for Business Use of Personal Vehicles
Due to the recent increases in gasoline prices, the IRS announced an increase in the standard mileage rates for 2008. Based on this information, the University’s mileage reimbursement rate for business use of personal vehicles will be 50 cents per mile for travel that occurs between January 1, 2008 and June 30, 2008.

Effective on July 1, 2008, the rate will increase to 58 cents per mile until further notice. Detailed information on reimbursable expenses is included in the University Travel Policy (Revised – November 18, 2003).
At their June 26, 2008 meeting, the Board of Trustees approved the formation of the School of Social Work, effective July 1, 2008.

Dr. Robin Mama Named Dean

Monmouth University is pleased to announce the appointment of Dr. Robin Mama as the Dean of the School of Social Work, also effective July 1, 2008.

In her role as Dean she will lead all programs, personnel and operations in Social Work to even higher levels of national recognition. Dr. Mama brings very impressive credentials as a teacher-scholar and national and campus leader to her task. She has received the Distinguished Teaching Award and the Judith Stanley Fellowship from Monmouth University in recognition of her outstanding teaching and her commitment to infuse human rights into the Social Work curriculum.

She is a published scholar in the areas of Social Work field practice, Social Work education in historical and global development, and she serves as Associate Editor for the Social Work Educator. Dr. Mama is a national leader in Social Work as illustrated by her service as past Chair of the Council on External Relations for the Council of Social Work Education and as representative to the International Federation of Social Workers at the United Nations.

On campus her leadership record includes her service as past Chair of the Faculty Council and as Chair of the Department of Social Work from 2004-2008, where she has led the faculty in establishing new international affiliations for the Masters in Social Work program and the creation of new lecture and continuing education opportunities. We are fortunate, indeed, that Dr. Mama is ready and willing to lead the School of Social Work in its inaugural period.

Time Off for Full-time Administrators

Remember to enter your time off used in Kronos Workforce Central - 7.25 hours for whole days and 3.5 hours for half days.

This includes vacation, sick, personal, off campus activities and other situations.

Reports are automatically generated on the 1st of every month and e-mailed to your managers for verification.

If you need assistance, please e-mail mramos@monmouth.edu or call extension 3699.
Say Hello To . . .

Lacy Jane Ryman
Lacy Jane joined the Office of Registration and Records on May 15 as Assistant Director of Registration and Records for Curriculum Maintenance, Degree Audit and Graduation. An alumni of The College of New Jersey, she graduated in 2005 with a Bachelor's Degree in English Literature and Creative Writing. Prior to joining Monmouth University, Lacy Jane worked as a marketing liaison for a brokerage firm and also spent several years at Ocean County College as the Assistant to the Director of Recruitment.

Stephen Ruggiero
Stephen is the Director of Turf Management and Landscaping who joined the University on June 2. Stephen is a graduate of the County College of Morris and earned a Certificate in Turf Management and Turf Equipment Management from Cook College, Rutgers University. He spent the last eight years as the Assistant Director of Field Operations for the New York Yankees, and was responsible for all turf and landscaping issues at Yankee Stadium.

Reggie Walker
Reggie joined the Educational Opportunity Fund staff on May 30 as a Counselor. He graduated Cum Laude from Rider University with a Bachelor’s Degree in Communications and this past May completed a Master’s Degree in Organizational Leadership, also from Rider. Prior to joining Monmouth University, Reggie spent time as a graduate assistant in Rider’s Educational Opportunity Program. There, he provided one-on-one and group tutoring to Communication Law students, sat on the President’s Diversity Committee and helped to create the Multicultural Student Leadership Institute.

The Human Relations Advisory Council (HRAC) will be conducting a Campus Climate Survey in the fall semester 2008.

The HRAC has been conducting focus groups with students, faculty, and employees to hear about experiences with diversity and inclusiveness at Monmouth University.

If you have any questions about the upcoming survey or the recent focus group discussions, please contact Jennifer Ristow in the Office of Affirmative Action, Human Relations and Compliance at extension 5755.

MAC CONSTRUCTION
PHASE 1

JUNE 26, 2008
Do you have a question about benefits?

Just... Ask Kathy,

Did you know that skin cancer is one of the most common forms of cancer in the United States?

The sunny days of summer are upon us. If you enjoy spending time outdoors and at the beach, make sure you are taking the necessary precautions to protect yourself and your family from the sun's ultraviolet (UV) rays. Continued and repeated exposure to these harmful rays can cause skin damage, including sun spots and skin cancer.

Follow these safety tips to protect your skin from the sun:

- Seek shade – The sun's UV rays are strongest between 10am and 4pm. Reduce exposure by seeking shade during these hours.
- Cover up – Clothing made of tightly woven fabric helps protect your skin.
- Wear a hat – A wide-brimmed hat will shade your face and neck. These are areas that get continued exposure to the sun so take extra precautions.
- Wear sunglasses – Sunglasses that block UV rays protect your eyes and reduce risk of cataracts. The skin around your eyes is especially sensitive.
- Use sunscreen – Sunscreen has sun protection factor (SPF) that indicates its effectiveness in blocking UV rays. Always use sunscreen with an SPF of 15 or higher before going outdoors. It's important to remember to reapply sunscreen often, especially if outdoors for a longer period of time or in a pool, lake or ocean.

Taking care of your skin is important year round but becomes a special concern during the summer months. Examine your skin regularly and look for anything out of the ordinary such as a new growth or a discolored mole. If you notice any changes, schedule an appointment with your doctor.

Who is eligible to participate in the Employee Referral Program?
You are eligible to participate in the Employee Referral Program if you are a full or part-time administrative, staff, facilities management or police employee below the level of Vice President.

How do I know which positions are open to external candidates?
The position vacancy announcements and website: http://jobs.monmouth.edu will alert you to positions that are available. Monmouth University will continue to internally post appropriate positions for the purpose of internal promotion.

How much can I earn?
A University employee(s) who recruit(s) a regular full-time or part-time employee who is offered and accepts employment by the Office of Human Resources and who successfully completes his/her probationary period, will be awarded a monetary bonus. A referral of $750 will be paid for Administrative Position Grades D and above; $500 will be paid for an Administrative Position Grades A through C; and $250 will be paid for all Staff Positions including those in Facilities Management.

How do I refer a candidate?
To be eligible for the award, an employee must submit the name of the individual he/she is referring PRIOR to the date that the individual's employment application is completed on an Employee Referral Form, which is available:
• in the Office of Human Resources
• in the network folder s:/public forms/hr
• in http://www.monmouth.edu/ultiPRO under My Company and Forms
An Employee Referral Form must be completed for each position for which the referral candidate applies. Referrals will not be accepted or paid if it is completed after the employee is offered a position. For a copy of the complete Employee Referral policy, please contact the Office of Human Resources.
