Monmouth Alum Represents US in World Cup

MIKE TIEDEMANN STAFF WRITER

The 2007 FIFA Women's World Cup has come to a close and there is disappointment on the minds of those on the United States' roster.

Heading into the tournament, the United States was one of the favorites to be crowned champions. However, a few mistakes cost them that opportunity. Instead, the team had to settle for a third place finish.

Consisting of the 21 best players, the country had to offer, the United States looked to alumni of UNC, Virginia, Notre Dame, Santa Clara, and yes Monmouth University.

While those schools are large in size, it was a smaller school that produced one of the teams’ most consistent players. Christie Rampone of Monmouth University, class of 1997, started in all six matches the team played.

Now a veteran on the team with 165 caps – an appearance for the national team – Rampone anchored a backline that yielded only seven goals all tournament.

She realizes that this may be the peak of her career. “I’m the fittest and strongest I’ve been in my career and that has helped my game tremendously. I believe in my ability and I enjoy playing.”

Rampone continued on pg. 22

Students Give Back at Annual Big Event

NATALIE RAMBONE STAFF WRITER

On Saturday October 20th, the Monmouth University Student Government Association held its annual community service event. This year, almost 300 volunteers from the Monmouth community were sent to local worksites in Long Branch, West Long Branch, Ocean, Asbury Park, and other nearby towns. Volunteers participated in activities such as painting, planting shrubbery, cutting down overgrown brush, lifting, and raking leaves.

The morning started off around 10:30 a.m. in the Rebecca Stafford Student Center with a light breakfast provided by Aramark and a welcome from Student Government President Brandon Bosque and Student Government Advisor Vaughn Clay.

Volunteers began loading the buses around 11 a.m. and arrived at their work sites where they volunteered anywhere from two to four hours before returning to Monmouth.

Senator and worksite captain, Gerard Hanley commented that, “In my years here at Monmouth University, nothing has made me feel more alive than the work I did for the Big Event.”

The planning for the Big Event is very strategic. It takes approximately 3 months in advance to get everything planned out for the one big day of service. Senators have to decide the date of the event, what areas to target for worksites, and from their sites, make sure volunteers sign up, and make sure the day of the event goes smoothly.

This year’s Big Event was run by Sophomore Senator Mia Schwerin and Junior Senator Lauren Acquaviva. Committee members included Freshman Senators Danielle DiPrima, Lisa DeCesare, and Justine Veal; Sophomore Senators Mary MacDonnell, Beckie Turner, and Natalie Rampone; Senator and Parliamentarian Meg Canavan; and Senator and President Brandon Bosque.

Lauren Acquaviva commented, “The Big Event went really well this year. We sent over 250 volunteers to 20 different worksites around the University. Overall, the day was very successful.”

Although The Big Event only occurs once a year, the amount of work accomplished by the volunteers is abundant in that one day. These volunteers may not realize that everything they do within the few hours they work has an enormous impact on the community at large. Many of the worksites who sign up have been involved in the Big Event for the past few years, and the sites look forward and eager to Monmouth University Students coming each year.

The goal for next year’s Big Event is to continue to grow and continue to help the surrounding communities as much as possible.
Condition of Campus Stream in Danger

JORDAN DEVESTY
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

A recent report compiled by campus professionals characterizes the impairment of Whale Pond Brook, a stream that runs through campus, as severe. This report outlines measures to restore water quality and habitat conditions.

The headwaters of Whale Pond Brook originate in Tinton Falls and the stream forms the boundary of Ocean Township and West Long Branch before emptying into Lake Takanassee in Long Branch and eventually the Atlantic Ocean. But before reaching this conclusion the stream flows through much urban development which compromises its health, one such development area being Monmouth University, where unaccounted for storm water from campus parking lots becomes a problem.

Associate Dean John A. Tiedemann, who is also the Assistant Director of the University’s Urban Coast Institute, says, “One of the biggest problems with [Whale Pond Brook] is that it receives all runoff, like those that are in place properly managing storm water resources.” Hauck also explains that they have been implementing a proper runoff system but that it never achieved the goals that it had set itself.

“People are unaware of what is even happening,” Tiedemann knows that it had any serious environmental consequences.” Hauck knew that it had any serious environmental consequences.” Hauck was unsure of.

“People are unaware of what is even happening,” Tiedemann knew that it had any serious environmental consequences.” Hauck also explains that they have been implementing a proper runoff system but that it never achieved the goals that it had set itself.

“People are unaware of what is even happening,” Tiedemann knew that it had any serious environmental consequences.” Hauck knew that it had any serious environmental consequences.” Hauck also explains that they have been implementing a proper runoff system but that it never achieved the goals that it had set itself. A recent report compiled by campus professionals characterizes the impairment of Whale Pond Brook, a stream that runs through campus, as severe. This report outlines measures to restore water quality and habitat conditions.

Whale Pond Brook is the home of over 50 different species of fish and wildlife, including the common carp, largemouth bass, and the blue gill, that are being threatened by this problem.

John A. Tiedemann
Associate Dean & Assistant Director of the University’s Urban Coast Institute

Students gathered in Anacon Hall to rock out, Irish style to Ceann on Friday, October 19. Ceann is an Irish band that has a twist of rock. Based out of New York City and Pittsburgh, they are well known for their Irish Yankees drinking music among local bars and pubs. One characteristic of the band is that it is separate from other rock bands, often playing with different lineups. While the band does utilize the usual guitar, bass, and drums, they also perform with a mandolin, harmonica, and even sometimes a trumpet.

Ceann is also well known for their crowd participation. On several occasions, the audience was on their feet LONG gunning and dancing the day along with the songs. The band also encouraged students to sing along and shout out responses during the chorus of a few of the songs which really helped to hype up the crowd. And students also sang themselves clapping in the hands and beating against a lyrical Irish theme. "I really liked the band. Their songs were funny and very original," commented Student Activities Board President Stephen Ficur.

Student Activities Board (SAB) planned and hosted the event. Con- tainment and Chad Donning was responsible for ensuring a smooth event. "I was in charge of making sure the door was closed, rate, set up equipment, monitor the the door, and help with any problems that the band had with any concerns they had," said Downing. He also said, "It's basically my job to make sure the band is comfortable and happy and everything they need. It's important to be very hospitable and make the atmosphere look good for future performances.

Anacon Hall underwent a transformation for the students to visit the feel of a local pub. Orange, green, and white balloons filled the room to add to the Irish theme, and pirate flags were hung on the wall, as a tribute to one of Ceann's most popular songs, "Worst Pirate." There were also a good variety of beer snacks available for the students as well. Chips and dip, nachos and salsa, cheese doodles, and pretzels were set out. So was even a keg of root beer for everyone to quench their thirst with. "I thought it would be funny to have a keg of root beer, since the band is an Irish pub band," said Downing.

SAB is responsible for many free events that take place on campus. There are several different types of concerts that are performed on cam- pus throughout the year. And there is always something that everyone can enjoy. Students should check out the different acts to experience some- thing new, especially when the concerts on campus are free. I would encourage students to attend more concerts, especially when they are good for the students as well. Chips and dip, nachos and salsa, cheese doodles, and pretzels were set out. So was even a keg of root beer for everyone to quench their thirst with. "I thought it would be funny to have a keg of root beer, since the band is an Irish pub band," said Downing.

SAB is responsible for many free events that take place on campus. There are several different types of concerts that are performed on cam- pus throughout the year. And there is always something that everyone can enjoy. Students should check out the different acts to experience some- thing new, especially when the concerts on campus are free. I would encourage students to attend more concerts, especially when they are good for the students as well. Chips and dip, nachos and salsa, cheese doodles, and pretzels were set out. So was even a keg of root beer for everyone to quench their thirst with. "I thought it would be funny to have a keg of root beer, since the band is an Irish pub band," said Downing.
Business School Ranked in Princeton Review

JUSTINE NAZARRO CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Princeton Review has released its 2008 edition of Best 399 Business Schools and Monmouth University is a member of its distinguished list. Using various methods of research and surveys, The Princeton Review was able to create a list of business schools in the country, that they feel are the most beneficial for students looking to study business.

The book consists of 11 different ranking lists, and each list consists of the top ten schools in the category. These lists are created to help any student researching various schools in the area of business to help narrow down their choices in terms of what they are interested in. They are based mainly on student surveys, but some incorporate statistical data and information given by each schools administrators.

Business schools are ranked based on two very important factors. Schools must meet the academic excellence that the Princeton Review is known for reporting, as well as allow the researchers to conduct surveys amongst their population of students. Surveys are submitted to students online or handed out to them by administrators. The students must then fill out the survey which consists of five parts: About Yourself, Students, Academics, Careers, and Quality of Life. These sections are divided primarily into multiple-choice questions, with very few open ended questions, so it is easy for The Princeton Review to get an overall consensus of what the students agree upon and disagree upon. “I like how the professors here at Monmouth teach from firsthand experience, so it’s relatable to the real world,” stated Sharon Flaming when asked why she thought the school of business was such a success.

Monmouth University and the other 289 schools, each receive a two page profile of the school. This profile makes note of the various academics, how selective the school is, and the career placement program of the school, as well as profiling admissions and how students live. The book contains a wide variety of books, such as “helpful alumni,” “happy students,” and “solid preparation in general management.” The book is not designed to pick one school as the top ranking business school over the others. “There is no actual number ranking. It does not, for instance, say that Harvard is ranked number one and Quimnips is ranked 290. There are no specific numbers,” says Dean of Business Frederick Kelly, Ph D.

This is a very distinguished honor for the School of Business here at Monmouth. The basis of this review is to provide schools to conduct surveys among student population of students. Surveys are submitted to students online or handed out to them by administrators. The students must then fill out the survey which consists of five parts: About Yourself, Students, Academics, Careers, and Quality of Life. These sections are divided primarily into multiple-choice questions, with very few open ended questions, so it is easy for The Princeton Review to get an overall consensus of what the students agree upon and disagree upon. “I like how the professors here at Monmouth teach from firsthand experience, so it’s relatable to the real world,” stated Sharon Flaming when asked why she thought the school of business was such a success.

Monmouth University and the other 289 schools, each receive a two page profile of the school. This profile makes note of the various academics, how selective the school is, and the career placement program of the school, as well as profiling admissions and how students live. The book contains a wide variety of books, such as “helpful alumni,” “happy students,” and “solid preparation in general management.” The book is not designed to pick one school as the top ranking business school over the others. “There is no actual number ranking. It does not, for instance, say that Harvard is ranked number one and Quimnips is ranked 290. There are no specific numbers,” says Dean of Business Frederick Kelly, Ph D.

This is a very distinguished honor for the School of Business here at Monmouth. The basis of this review is to provide schools to conduct surveys among student population of students. Surveys are submitted to students online or handed out to them by administrators. The students must then fill out the survey which consists of five parts: About Yourself, Students, Academics, Careers, and Quality of Life. These sections are divided primarily into multiple-choice questions, with very few open ended questions, so it is easy for The Princeton Review to get an overall consensus of what the students agree upon and disagree upon. “I like how the professors here at Monmouth teach from firsthand experience, so it’s relatable to the real world,” stated Sharon Flaming when asked why she thought the school of business was such a success.

Monmouth University and the other 289 schools, each receive a two page profile of the school. This profile makes note of the various academics, how selective the school is, and the career placement program of the school, as well as profiling admissions and how students live. The book contains a wide variety of books, such as “helpful alumni,” “happy students,” and “solid preparation in general management.” The book is not designed to pick one school as the top ranking business school over the others. “There is no actual number ranking. It does not, for instance, say that Harvard is ranked number one and Quimnips is ranked 290. There are no specific numbers,” says Dean of Business Frederick Kelly, Ph D.

This is a very distinguished honor for the School of Business here at Monmouth. The basis of this review is to provide schools to conduct surveys among student population of students. Surveys are submitted to students online or handed out to them by administrators. The students must then fill out the survey which consists of five parts: About Yourself, Students, Academics, Careers, and Quality of Life. These sections are divided primarily into multiple-choice questions, with very few open ended questions, so it is easy for The Princeton Review to get an overall consensus of what the students agree upon and disagree upon. “I like how the professors here at Monmouth teach from firsthand experience, so it’s relatable to the real world,” stated Sharon Flaming when asked why she thought the school of business was such a success.

Monmouth University and the other 289 schools, each receive a two page profile of the school. This profile makes note of the various academics, how selective the school is, and the career placement program of the school, as well as profiling admissions and how students live. The book contains a wide variety of books, such as “helpful alumni,” “happy students,” and “solid preparation in general management.” The book is not designed to pick one school as the top ranking business school over the others. “There is no actual number ranking. It does not, for instance, say that Harvard is ranked number one and Quimnips is ranked 290. There are no specific numbers,” says Dean of Business Frederick Kelly, Ph D.

This is a very distinguished honor for the School of Business here at Monmouth. The basis of this review is to provide schools to conduct surveys among student population of students. Surveys are submitted to students online or handed out to them by administrators. The students must then fill out the survey which consists of five parts: About Yourself, Students, Academics, Careers, and Quality of Life. These sections are divided primarily into multiple-choice questions, with very few open ended questions, so it is easy for The Princeton Review to get an overall consensus of what the students agree upon and disagree upon. “I like how the professors here at Monmouth teach from firsthand experience, so it’s relatable to the real world,” stated Sharon Flaming when asked why she thought the school of business was such a success.

Monmouth University and the other 289 schools, each receive a two page profile of the school. This profile makes note of the various academics, how selective the school is, and the career placement program of the school, as well as profiling admissions and how students live. The book contains a wide variety of books, such as “helpful alumni,” “happy students,” and “solid preparation in general management.” The book is not designed to pick one school as the top ranking business school over the others. “There is no actual number ranking. It does not, for instance, say that Harvard is ranked number one and Quimnips is ranked 290. There are no specific numbers,” says Dean of Business Frederick Kelly, Ph D.

This is a very distinguished honor for the School of Business here at Monmouth. The basis of this review is to provide schools to conduct surveys among student population of students. Surveys are submitted to students online or handed out to them by administrators. The students must then fill out the survey which consists of five parts: About Yourself, Students, Academics, Careers, and Quality of Life. These sections are divided primarily into multiple-choice questions, with very few open ended questions, so it is easy for The Princeton Review to get an overall consensus of what the students agree upon and disagree upon. “I like how the professors here at Monmouth teach from firsthand experience, so it’s relatable to the real world,” stated Sharon Flaming when asked why she thought the school of business was such a success.

Monmouth University and the other 289 schools, each receive a two page profile of the school. This profile makes note of the various academics, how selective the school is, and the career placement program of the school, as well as profiling admissions and how students live. The book contains a wide variety of books, such as “helpful alumni,” “happy students,” and “solid preparation in general management.” The book is not designed to pick one school as the top ranking business school over the others. “There is no actual number ranking. It does not, for instance, say that Harvard is ranked number one and Quimnips is ranked 290. There are no specific numbers,” says Dean of Business Frederick Kelly, Ph D.
General Education Requirements May Change in the Upcoming Years

The Task Force on General Education Requirements has issued a proposal that will reduce the number of general required classes for some majors. The proposal is set up to lessen the load of general education requirements for some majors. The idea expressed by many of the people interviewed was that the removal of some of the required classes will give students more freedom to take electives or other courses that interest them.

"The primary motivation for reforming is to improve student learning," said Dr. Stanley Green, Dean of the McMurray School of Humanities and Social Sciences. The proposal has yet to move from the Task Force on General Education Requirements to the Faculty Council. If the Faculty Council approves it favorably, then the proposal will go to the full faculty for adoption. From there, if the full faculty approves it, then the President and other prominent people, such as Dr. Green, will need to decide to approve or not approve it.

As of right now, Monmouth University has more general education requirements than New Jersey calls for. The state requires about 45 credits for general education, and Monmouth requires about 50. Some technical majors, such as Information Technology, have a greater number of general education credits.

"We are considering education requirements that would be more of a choice of electives," said Dr. Don Swanson, Department Chair of Communication. The last time the general education classes were modified was approximately 15 years ago. Dina Ambazis, a Communication major, said, "The courses definitely need a revision because times have changed, so the students that are taking them now.

When asked to comment on the impending proposal, Dr. Tom Mannix, the Provost for Academic Affairs, said, "I do not believe it is appropriate for me to comment on the proposal because the faculty debates the general education proposal with its various recommendations.

Though the classes that are up for being cut are not finalized, those that are Critical Discourse are considered for the cut. Many schools require some sort of Critical Discourse or seminar and/or debate class. Dr. Swanson feels that Critical Discourse course has both skills wrapped up into one class. Brian McGuire, a business major, states, "I think it’s a terrible idea…Taking away the necessity for classes such as Critical Discourse is a disservice to the students and the faculty who teach those classes and the students’ degree.”

This matter has yielded another obstacle that must be addressed such as determining which classes are let go and which ones are kept. Dr. Swanson said, "The teachers who teach [the classes being considered for cutting] will advocate to save the course. Students have also been involved with the proposal through the series of town meetings back in the fall of 2006 held for all campus constituency groups. Consultations with representatives from student government were held. Dr. Mary Swigowski, Department of Social Work, stated, "Students, alumni, faculty and administrators have been involved with the lengthy processes throughout this proposal.”

Cost is also a factor considered in this proposal. Dean Green said, "If the course is created that does not have the appropriate facility or staff, then additional hiring would be required and that is expensive money. With so many Credits that need to be taken, expenditures on these would be huge.”

Dean Green stated, "Decreasing the number of credits in general education will provide flexibility for students and for the university that can decrease the cost of general education in ways and allow increase expenditures in other areas.” Other areas could include improvements to campus buildings, more electives and other organizations or clubs all with the students' best interests in mind.

In the case of Emily Rose, she was recently graduated. However, even through out her possession she said she regularly experienced some sort of spiritual activity to say that she is possessed. She said though that she would do want to get involved with people. If people go to mass and confess and forgive others, she said, if you don't, some of your sins might be being possessed. Also, wearing a charm bracelet does not protect you as well. He also mentions that 666 is the mark of the beast but it is unknown why this is an evil number and what this is referring to. Father Jakub also mentioned that it was found recently that Mother Theresa wrote that even if she had times that she doubted God because of the existence of evil and evil angels, she could not persevere with faith in God then God will protect us. However, if people persevere with faith in God and then God will protect us. The devil is a person gentle, he never goes where he's not invited, same with God, if you invite God in then he'll keep you safe. Father Jakub

The devil is a person gentle, he never goes where he's not invited, same with God, if you invite God in then he'll keep you safe. Father Jakub
Important Notice Regarding WebAdvisor Upgrade

On Monday, October 15, 2007, WEBfaculty, WEBstudent and WebAdvisor for Employees will be upgraded to WebAdvisor 3.0. The upgraded version of WebAdvisor will require that you log in before you see your menu.

Please note: only those menu options that you have access to will be displayed. All options that you had on the previous version of WebAdvisor will remain.

Should you have any difficulty, please call the Help Desk at ext. 4357(HELP) or 732-923-HELP or email helpdesk@monmouth.edu

The SAB Pharmacy Presents:

HERSHEY PARK TRIP
CHOCOLATE WORLD
Sat Oct 27th
Bus Departs @ 10am
TICKETS ON SALE NOW
$25 w/ MU ID
$30 for guest
JACQUELINE KOLOSKI  EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

In the beginning of October, Experiential Education (Ex Ed) celebrated its tenth anniversary. As you may know, each Monmouth undergraduate is required to fulfill their Ex Ed requirements in such opportunities as completing an internship, cooperative education, or even studying aboard.

Though any of these are great ways to get real world experience, I’m going to focus much of this editorial on doing an internship because that is how I fulfilled my credit. When I first thought about doing my internship, I was unsure of how I was going to get one because the field I am going into is highly competitive. By talking to my professors, my advisor, and doing some research on my own I just began sending out e-mails to any and every publication in my area. I decided, initially, was to be best for me to complete my internship in the summer as I wanted to dedicate as much time and energy into it as possible.

I interned at South Jersey Magazine in Marlton, NJ during the summer of my junior year and it was an experience I value greatly. When I received their response, I was extremely excited to start. I have aspired to work for a magazine since I became interested in journalism and the time I spent at South Jersey Magazine was time where I learned more about magazine journalism from professionals, what it takes to layout a monthly magazine, and working with people, in general. I spent three months at the magazine and came away with great contacts that I can use in the future and a better understanding of the journal-ism field. I knew from the start that this was a cut throat field and that you have to have a thick skin to survive this industry. Though I didn’t get to exercise my writing muscles, I am now doing an inter-ernship that I may just be doing little projects like copy editing or entering data.

Before interning, my commu-nication professors constantly re-iterated to us that once you leave the comfortable confines of school you are not going to get the best job out there. You are going to have to work your way up to the top in your field. Trust me, I know that. That’s why I didn’t expect to do anything glamorous while interning because this is just an opportunity to get some expe-rience in the real world. It was as though we were getting a glimpse into what working in this field would be like.

Another advantage of an intern-ship is that it helps some students realize that their initial career choice may not be for them. That’s the beauty of the situation. It is like trial and error because there is no limit as to how many internships you can try. I have heard from my peers in classes of their experienc-es doing a variety of internships and I wish I could do a couple more internships just to put more outside experience on my resume. However, I am satis-fied with what I took away from interning at South Jersey Maga-zine. I kept in contact with them for the past couple years since interning there and even helped them in the summer with entering events on their website. The main reason I did that was to re-main in contact with them so they will remember me in case I send them my resume once I graduate. In fact, at the end of this summer, the editor in charge of the website told me that they needed an opportunity to write for the website.

I think that is the most beneficial aspect of doing an internship because the contacts you make while there can last you a lifetime. My advice to everyone about ready to begin an internship is to take the experience and just learn as much as you can during this time. Like I said, you are not going to be doing the most glamorous tasks while inter-nning. I think it is an experience of a lifetime and students should do as many internships as they can before they graduate.

The purpose of this editorial is not to push students to do an internship rather than studying abroad, doing a co-op, or fulfilling their experiential education another way. I know I wish I took advant-age of studying abroad. Though I wasn’t able to fit it into my sched-ule, after hearing all the stories from my friends who have studied in London and Australia it seemed as though it was an amazing ex-perience. This editorial is simply meant to stress the fact of how im-portant experiential education is to our undergraduate curriculum.

It gives us opportunities to get a taste of the real world and build up any knowledge that we can to help us grow as adults. We should be taking advantage of these opportunities and build up as much knowledge as you can to help us get our foot in the door once we begin our job search.
MEGAN LABRUNA

As midterms come to an end for most of us, so do the season premieres of many of our favorite shows. This is not the case for One Tree Hill fans who have been patiently waiting these past few weeks only to find that the show will not be returning until January. Now I’m not saying the show is the best show ever, but it kept my attention with all their teen angst and ridiculous scenarios. The next time the show returns, the viewers will see the lives of the characters as portrayed after having attended 4 years of college.

While this seems like an interesting leap for some shows to attempt, I’m not sure how well One Tree Hill will take to such a change. Despite the outstanding plotlines some of these teens have encountered during the 4 seasons of the show, the last episode was highly cheesy with everyone vowing to reunite at the river court 4 years from that day. In reality most people will have moved on and drifted away from some of their high school friends, not to mention people will have left their hometown and set up a life somewhere closer to their school or possible job prospects. Clearly these types of shows are not based on reality though, so there is no glimmer of hope for this season’s set up to actually work. Along with a new plot line will be a new cast member.

According to the CW11 website, Kevin Federline (yes you read correctly) will be playing a “self-obsessed, wannabe rock star” which isn’t too far from the truth, aside from the self-obsessed part. Seeing as he won’t really have to act to portray this role, he might actually be somewhat decent. Seeing as the last episode ended with Brooke making up with Chase, I’m assuming we’ll be seeing more of Stephen Colletti, who surprised me with his role on the show. I was a fan of him from watching Laguna Beach, but he managed to portray his character, Chase, as a believable skater boy, clean teen, high school student and therefore I give him props. Aside from the new characters, I think skipping 4 years will take away from the stories of the main characters.

Nathan and Lucas are set to go off to college together, with Nathan playing basketball and Lucas and Whitey coaching, but he missed the college years, the fan base won’t see the interaction. We will also miss out on the new additions to the families of One Tree Hill such as Haley’s baby Jane, and Karen’s baby Lily. As for the parents of One Tree Hill, I hope this season they finally kill off Dan. The show has attempted to kill him off at least twice now, and he’s still alive, maybe a third time will be the charm. I don’t really know what’s going on with Deb, so it will be interesting to see if she continues to suffer from the addictive problems she battled with during this past seasons. As for Karen, she has now lost several love interests, which leads me to believe she might not be settled down with anyone we see her next.

Despite all the negative reasons I have just stated for the considerable leap of time in the plot, there are some ups for casting directors to skip these years. Now they can hire children instead of infants to play the newly added characters of Lily and James, and the writers don’t have to worry about writing Peyton her own subplot while she is internning away in Los Angeles. Overall, I hope the changes work out, and don’t instead cause the unintended ending of many viewers’ guilty pleasure.

One Tree Hill pushed back to January

As of Wednesday, October 16th, Monmouth University now recognizes the Society for Creative Industries in Free Enterprise as an official student organization. I would like to recognize Bobbi Hardt and Alex Abramagov, who have spearheaded the efforts to start a SIFE chapter at Monmouth University, as well as all members of the team. For those who are unsure what SIFE is, it is an organization that aims to help students better understand what they learn in the classroom, through practical use in projects designed to serve the surrounding community.

SIFE is the fastest growing student organizations in the world. Currently there are over 1,400 chapters in the United States, spanning 47 different countries. Each of these chapters creates projects that meet the unique needs of their community. The projects focus on one of six categories set by the SIFE organization, which are: market economics, success for entrepreneurs, financial literacy, and business ethics. One of the most unique characteristics of SIFE is that each team has the freedom to choose what projects they would like to do based on the six criteria. Additionally, while it may sound like a business oriented club, it is open to students of all majors, and greater diversity among the club’s members can lead to better understanding and appreciation of each other’s unique perspectives.

SIFE is the fastest growing student organization in the world. Currently there are over 1,400 chapters in the United States, spanning 47 different countries. Each of these chapters creates projects that meet the unique needs of their community. The projects focus on one of six categories set by the SIFE organization, which are: market economics, success for entrepreneurs, financial literacy, and business ethics. One of the most unique characteristics of SIFE is that each team has the freedom to choose what projects they would like to do based on the six criteria. Additionally, while it may sound like a business oriented club, it is open to students of all majors, and greater diversity among the club’s members can lead to better understanding and appreciation of each other’s unique perspectives.

SIFE is the fastest growing student organization in the world. Currently there are over 1,400 chapters in the United States, spanning 47 different countries. Each of these chapters creates projects that meet the unique needs of their community. The projects focus on one of six categories set by the SIFE organization, which are: market economics, success for entrepreneurs, financial literacy, and business ethics. One of the most unique characteristics of SIFE is that each team has the freedom to choose what projects they would like to do based on the six criteria. Additionally, while it may sound like a business oriented club, it is open to students of all majors, and greater diversity among the club’s members can lead to better understanding and appreciation of each other’s unique perspectives.

SIFE is the fastest growing student organization in the world. Currently there are over 1,400 chapters in the United States, spanning 47 different countries. Each of these chapters creates projects that meet the unique needs of their community. The projects focus on one of six categories set by the SIFE organization, which are: market economics, success for entrepreneurs, financial literacy, and business ethics. One of the most unique characteristics of SIFE is that each team has the freedom to choose what projects they would like to do based on the six criteria. Additionally, while it may sound like a business oriented club, it is open to students of all majors, and greater diversity among the club’s members can lead to better understanding and appreciation of each other’s unique perspectives.
MRSA: THE “SUPERBUG”

Kathi Maloney, FNP-C, DIRECTOR OF HEALTH SERVICES

MRSA stands for Methicillin-Resistant Staphylococcus aureus. Staph is a type of bacteria that can cause skin infections. Due to overuse of antibiotics, this bacterium has developed resistance to common antibiotics. Hence, creating “superbug” infections that are hard to treat.

Skin infections caused by MRSA may look like a pimple or boil and can be red, swollen, painful, and have pus or other drainage. It can also cause serious infection if it travels through the body causing bloodstream infections, pneumonia or infections in other body parts.

MRSA used to be seen primarily in hospitals and other health-care facilities. However, in recent years it has spread out into the community setting. Like many universities across the country, Monmouth University has had MRSA infections within the athletic population spread through skin to skin contact while engaged in sports activities. It is also being found within the non-athletic population. This is comparable to national trends, making MRSA now one of the number one reasons for emergency room visits.

MRSA is treatable with certain antibiotics, but early intervention is important to prevent the spread of the infection to other body parts. A certain percentage of people with MRSA infections can go on to become carriers of the bacteria. Prevention is the key to reducing the spread of transmission in any setting. The following practices should be used to prevent a staph or MRSA skin infection:

1. Wash your hands! This can be done through either simple soap and water or using an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
2. Immediately clean cuts and wounds and then cover with a bandage until healed.
3. Do not share personal items with another person such as towels, razors, or clothing items.
4. Do not handle another person’s bandages, tape or dressings.
5. When at a gym, use a barrier between your skin and shared equipment; wipe equipment surfaces before and after use.

Monmouth University has been instituting a number of measures to prevent the spread of infection. Frequent cleaning of campus facilities has been stepped up with the use of antibacterial agents; hand sanitizers can be found in public places such as the Dining Hall and soap dispensers and hand dryers have been installed in Pinewood and Elmwood.

If you suspect that you have a staph infection, please see either your healthcare provider or a clinician at the Monmouth University Health Services. The clinicians at Health Services utilize the most recent hand sanitization protocols and will continue to follow your care until the infection is completely treated.

More information about MRSA can be found on the CDC web site at http://www.cdc.gov/nhep/dhqsar_mrsa.ca.html or contact a clinician in Health Services at 732-571-3464 if you have any further questions.

Prevention is the key to reducing the spread of transmission in any setting. The following practices should be used to prevent a staph or MRSA skin infection:

• Wash your hands! This can be done through either simple soap and water or using an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
• Immediately clean cuts and wounds and then cover with a bandage until healed.
• Do not share personal items with another person such as towels, razors, or clothing items.
• Do not handle another person’s bandages, tape or dressings.
• When at a gym, use a barrier between your skin and shared equipment; wipe equipment surfaces before and after use.

Monmouth University has been instituting a number of measures to prevent the spread of infection. Frequent cleaning of campus facilities has been stepped up with the use of antibacterial agents; hand sanitizers can be found in public places such as the Dining Hall and soap dispensers and hand dryers have been installed in Pinewood and Elmwood.

If you suspect that you have a staph infection, please see either your healthcare provider or a clinician at the Monmouth University Health Services. The clinicians at Health Services utilize the most recent hand sanitization protocols and will continue to follow your care until the infection is completely treated.

More information about MRSA can be found on the CDC web site at http://www.cdc.gov/nhep/dhqsar_mrsa.ca.html or contact a clinician in Health Services at 732-571-3464 if you have any further questions.

ASK THE HAWK

Have a question for The Hawk? Send an e-mail to askthehawk@monmouth.edu and you could be published in the next issue!

Dear Hawk,
I have a big crush on one of my best friends...but she has her heart set somewhere else. I told her how I felt and it was kind of a disaster, but now things are back to where they were...still friends, still love her, and still disappointed. Part of me says to just move on, part of me desperately wants to wait for her. I just dunno what to do anymore...so I figured I’d ask you.
Signed, Justafriend

Dear Justafriend,
You’ve brought up the single most elaborate, difficult subject of all time. Love. There are no easy answers to this situation. Though, you know in your heart what you have to do. Tell your friend exactly what you’re feeling. It will seem like the hardest thing you’ve ever done in your life, and afterwards you’ll regret it for a while. But it is the best thing for both of you to do. If you are close friends, it will not harm your friendship. The longer you wait for her while she has her heart set somewhere else, the harder and more painful it will be for you. Tell her what you’re feeling in full detail, see what she feels about it, and talk with her to decide what should be done. You may need to loosen your friendship, or take a break for a while. Remember not to focus too hard on her that you miss other chances at love...you may find someone else who you feel strongly about in the near future, but you have to give them a chance to find you. If you can’t handle being ‘just friends’ with your girl, take a step back and ask yourself what is best for your happiness and health.
Signed,
• Hawk •

Dear Hawk,
I am SO stressed out I don’t have time to even sleep anymore. I’m taking 15 credits, I’ve joined several organizations that I’m being active in, I work when I’m not in school, and I try to attempt a social life. Is this whole college thing really worth it? I’m losing my mind and my health and I’m always overwhelmed...and oh look, here come midterms. Is there any hope in the future or will life just continue to suck indefinitely?
Signed, Lostintime

Dear Lostintime,
Slow it down there! Looks like you’ve taken far too much on your plate. You need to prioritize your life a bit. First: school. Get your papers done and studying out of the way before anything else. Then... work. Everyone needs spending money to survive, try to make it on time and just do what you can, don’t burn out by working too much! As for the organizations, you may want to step back a little. With so much on your “to-do” list, taking a less active role in your clubs may give you the time and sanity you need to get back on your feet. Sleep is one of the most important aspects of living a healthy life. You need to allow time to sleep every night, be able to put whatever you’re doing away and devote time to clearing your head and resting your body. And the social life...it’s not going anywhere! People will continue to exist and friendships will grow without constant pruning. Tell everyone your situation and they will understand a need for space and may even offer to help you get things done. Remember this is college...there are a lot of people that are sharing your same experience and are wishing they had someone to go through it with. Don’t keep things bottled up, just go with the flow and try not to over-think it ;-)

Signed,• Hawk •

FREE VIOLET LOVE HEADBAND

AVENUE YOU
it's all about you!

www.aveyou.com

From Monmouth College Take Norwood Ave. South 1.8 miles. Avenue You Beauty Store Located On Right Hand Side at FootNotes Shopping Ctr.

280 Norwood Ave.
Deal, NJ 07723
732-531-1988
www.aveyou.com

Dark Is In.... Don't be Out!!
Turkey Angered by U.S. House Resolution

From CNN.com and the Washington Post: The United States government had just informed Turkey that it would be sending troops into northern Iraq. The resolution seems to have taken Turkey by surprise. The move, according to U.S. officials, was prompted by the U.S. White House's belief that Turkey's Defense Minister had indicated a willingness to act in concert with the U.S. on this matter. However, Turkey had not been consulted prior to the decision. The Turkish government was reportedly angry and felt betrayed by the U.S. action.

DANIEL J. WISNIEWSKI
PRESIDENT, POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

The resolution will come to the floor sometime in November. Eight former Secretaries of State have signed a letter urging House Speaker Nancy Pelosi to not let the Resolution reach the entire House of Representatives. The resolution seems to be an attempt to force Turkey to act in concert with the U.S. on this matter.

Hello everyone! For those interested in writing for the Political News of The Outlook, please contact Daniele Diosotto, President of The Political Science Club to get started! You can contact him at daniel.j.wisniewski@monmouth.edu. All topics and viewpoints are welcome! Thank you!

DANIELE DIOSOTTO
SECRETARY, POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

Prior to jumping to any steadfast conclusions, the negative may want to consider the following arguments:

1. The term "right" gets kicked around quite a bit these days. We apparently have a right to privacy, a right to die, and a "free" right to our business with me. You can't have one thing in common however; from junk lawsuits and unethical doctors to giving birth to their child. Was it for the war or the have one thing in common however; from junk lawsuits and unethical doctors to giving birth to their child. Was it for the war or the...
So somehow this week has flown by ridiculously fast and we leave tomorrow for fall break. How that one happened, we are not to sure.

Here are the adventures and stories from some other Monmouth students.

Erin Sullivan is a junior, majoring in Business, likes long walks on the beach and candlelight dinners. So far she has been to Switzerland, Ireland and Canterbury. Her favorite memory has been skydiving over the Swiss Alps. Her advice to everyone back home is to go skydiving and you feel studying abroad was the best decision ever.

Psychology major, Jenna Delozier is having an incredible time and is a junior as well.

She has traveled to Brighton Beach, Ireland, Scotland and Croatia. Alison Jimenez is a junior studying Health studies and has been to Ireland, Brighton Beach, Switzerland and Croatia. Their favorite memory is hang gliding out on the beach in Zadar, Croatia and swimming in the Adriatic Sea. Jennifer Solly is a sophomore studying history and education. She has traveled to Barcelona, Ireland and Scotland. She loved taking a cruise on Loch Ness in Scotland and said "I have only traveled to Ireland and it was absolutely gorgeous. So far my experience here has been amazing. The teachers are all great, somewhat boring, but good people. The friends I have made here have made my experience here that much better." I hope you enjoyed some perspective and stories from other students. But do not fret, when I get a break I am sure I will have plenty of tales to tell. Till then, good luck on midterms. Cheers!

Aimee Savoth standing in front of the Edinburgh Castle.

Next up meet Aimee Savoth, a junior studying Public Relations. She traveled to Brighton Beach (where there is no sand, just stones), Canterbury, Bath, Ireland, Leeds Castle, Scotland, Wales and Switzerland. Her favorite activity so far was skydiving and she feels studying abroad was the best decision ever.

Psychology major, Jenna Delozier is having an incredible time and is a junior as well.

She has traveled to Brighton Beach, Ireland, Scotland and Croatia. Alison Jimenez is a junior studying Health studies and has been to Ireland, Brighton Beach, Switzerland and Croatia. Their favorite memory is hang gliding out on the beach in Zadar, Croatia and swimming in the Adriatic Sea. Jennifer Solly is a sophomore studying history and education. She has traveled to Barcelona, Ireland and Scotland. She loved taking a cruise on Loch Ness in Scotland and said "I have only traveled to Ireland and it was absolutely gorgeous. So far my experience here has been amazing. The teachers are all great, somewhat boring, but good people. The friends I have made here have made my experience here that much better." I hope you enjoyed some perspective and stories from other students. But do not fret, when I get a break I am sure I will have plenty of tales to tell. Till then, good luck on midterms. Cheers!

Monmouth University’s Chapter of The National Broadcasting Society presents

A DOCUMENTARY ON THE HAUNTINGS OF MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY

SHADOWS OF SHADOW LAWN

MONDAY, OCTOBER 29
9:00 PM
WILSON AUDITORIUM
(BASEMENT OF WILSON HALL)

Are you looking to gain valuable work experience before you graduate?

Growing Financial Services Firm is Seeking Candidates for Part-Time Positions

Discovery - The financial information group Inc., makers of the Discovery suite of databases of financial intermediaries, is seeking full majors for a variety of part-time positions.

Part-Time Positions/Internships Available

- Computer Programmer
- Lead Generation - Sales Intern
- Data Acquisition Associate
- Quality Assurance Associate

Candidates must have strong interpersonal, organizational and time management skills. Each position will have certain qualification requirements based upon the job responsibilities.

Our company was founded by a Monmouth University graduate and currently employs many Monmouth graduates as well as current students. These positions are based in Shrewsbury, NJ. Flexible hours and hourly wage plus bonus opportunity for exceptional performance.

For immediate consideration, please submit your resume to jobs@discoverydatabase.com or fax to 732-530-6797
Americans don’t like to wait. We want fast coffee, fast food, even our prescriptions not to take too long; we have become a McNa- tion. Now you can get your soup at a fast pace with the opening of The Original SoupMan, which opened its doors last Wednesday on Broad Street in Red Bank.

The restaurant is a chain branched off by the original owner and creator Al Yeganeh who is the muse for the famous “Soup Nazi” episode on Seinfeld. Al despises the episode and its nickname, but holds true when it comes to the process of getting your soup. Even though they don’t verbally abuse you at the Red Bank opening, the line is like an assembly split. Instead of shredded within the soup, the grand opening was a glorious one. Customers waited in a long line anticipating the soup to fall on their taste buds. The opening started off with a ribbon cutting by the Joyce Brothers, who are the owners of this specific franchise. The mayor of Red Bank was in attendance as well and provided a check on behalf of Vincent Yeganeh’s Feed the Hungry Foundation.

The Original SoupMan in front of the original restaurant in New York City.

Mayor of Red Bank Pasquale Menna along with franchise owners the Joyce Brothers Tom, Jim, John and Joe and the president of Monmouth and Ocean Counties Food Bank hold up a check for $1500 from Al Yeganeh’s Feed the Hungry Foundation.

PHOTO COURTESY of Jenine Clancy

PHOTO COURTESY of Google.com

As a result,” said Mayor Bertrand, “they are very excited about the opening.”

PHOTO COURTESY of Jenine Clancy

Mayor Menna also explained how our local charity gives food to people in Monmouth and Ocean counties, especially during the holidays. He said “they don’t ask any questions, they open their doors, all you have to do is ask and they will be happy to assist in terms of basic staples of life. We all should be concerned about their contribution to the food bank and that it’s enormously positive and shows great corporate responsibility.”

The Joyce Brothers explained that they became affiliated with the “Soup” franchise because they saw an advertisement on the news that was selling franchises Ten years ago when he saw the infamous episode, he thought that would be a good one to profit from. When he heard Al was selling franchises, he and his brothers wanted to try it out. It was new and in a niche market. When asked what made him and his brothers come to Red Bank, he said, “They were looking for good territory to get into and it is an up and coming and happening town. Plus, we went to Red Bank Catholic, so it’s like coming back home again.”

The restaurant itself is quaint and feels like you’re in the city. When asked what they thought of the place, a local customer said “its cute, nice brick walls, the whole ambiance is perfect, they will be back.”

I can attest that the soup was amazing. I tried the lobster bisque, and one of my fellow peers couldn’t agree more. She said, “it was the perfect combo of lobster and crème, it was very good and she would recommend it.” Another costumer said “it was unbelievably rich and delightful, with a melody of fruits and vegetables and thought it was awesome,” but she, “couldn’t pronounce the name!”

Stephanie Soleminson was the winner of “Free soup for life,” which translates into: you really do get free soup for life! She said she thought it was “hilarious” and she “loves soup.”

Alongside Yeganeh’s 50 varieties of soup there is an extensive line of gourmet salads and sandwiches. The menu price ranges from $4.95-$8.95 for a cup of soup, and $6.95-$8.95 for a bowl. During “my stay” I got the delicious soup with a fresh, crusty baguette, fresh fruit, and Lindt Chocolate. The Joyce Brothers said they can’t wait to see everyone again, well the feeling’s mutural as long as I don’t get denied my soup.
They May Have Anchors For Arms But They’re Still Rising

MEGAN LABRUNA STUDENT EDITOR

They may have Anchors For Arms, but that’s not stopping this band from rising high.

Time has brought a band with original music, creative lyrics, hard-hitting solid melodies, and sick guitar solos! Then search no further, because you can find all that and more with New Jersey’s very own band, Anchors For Arms.

Their debut album LISTEN. REACT includes such songs as “Let’s Go Break Their Arms” and Dead Weight, which contain insane riffs, unique vocal and instrument harmonies and meaningful lyrics all held together by concrete tempos.

The members of four members equally important in the melodic synergy that is Anchors For Arms, Van Lavasquez (Drums & Bass), Kenny Donovan (Vocals & Guitar), Chris Sanders (Vocals & Guitar), and Matt Vanzenza (Drums) began their rise to rockdom while attending Ran- dolph High School under the name Allstar Otis, and continued to keep the band together when three of the four members of the band decided to attend our very own Monmouth University.

Together, the band mates create and write their own unique style of music and lyrics, while keeping to incorporate interesting aspects from some of their favor- ite bands which include, Thrice, Every Time I Die, and A Wilhelm Scream.

In the beginning of 2006 the band decided to change their name from their original high school moniker to Anchors For Arms. Ryan, lead singer and bassist for the band, said, “we re- coered some new songs that were a different vibe from anything we’d ever written, we were start- ing to become a different type of band and we knew we needed to make a change for the better of our future.”

They made the right choice, because later that year thanks to the band’s killer new tracks and lots of loyal fans AFA won The Concert Station (90.7 FM) Battle of the Bands with “The Stone Pony in Asbury Park.”

They triumphed awarded the band their own slot at Bamboocyle, which Ryan claims has topped all of their other appearances. AFA has, “just to meet a bunch of bands that we look up to and play on the same stage was just the best experience ever.”

The boys have been touring throughout the US this past year to promote the release of their first album, LISTEN. REACT, which hit store shelves this past Tuesday, Oc- tober 23.

The compact disc features 11 songs in total, one of which has sur- vived and made the transition from the Allstar Otis EP to this disk. The track is titled “50 is conservative, 60 is provocative.” The CD also features songs such as “No Grav- iety” which chronicles AFA’s journey of the growth the band experienced and their having to end their time at Monmouth.

The song “Dead Weight” tends to be the band’s favorite song to per- form live according to Ryan, be- cause “it’s the fastest and hardest song on the record it’s a great way to get kids into the show and into us.” Although, his personal favor- ite song off the CD is “Kingdom Came.” “It’s so much different than anything we’ve ever written and I never thought we’d write a song like that before. It turned out to be an amazing song.”

While on tour, the band spends most of the time in their van sleep- ing, reading, listening to music, and playing video games; unfortunately, they don’t get to sight-see much outside of the van and their gigs.

The band claims they enjoy travel- ing, aside from their car accident last winter which occurred in Wyo- ming when their van swerved and lost control on a patch of ice. Luckily, no one members left the scene unscathed, but they couldn’t say the same for their van, which was totaled. The band’s sage ad- vice for others planning on tour- ing during the cold season; “Do not drive in Wyoming when it’s winter.”

Although returning to school may not be in the near future for the boys, when asked if they would ever perform at Monmouth University Ryan replied, “If there was an opportunity for us to play we’d be there in a second.”

Maybe one of these days we will be lucky enough to have Anchors For Arms perform back here at Monmouth University, but until then you can catch them touring in the New York and Pennsylvania area starting this November.

You can pick up their new album LISTEN. REACT both in stores and online now. Support local Jersey music!
Jimmy Eat World is back after a three year hiatus with the release of their album, Chase This Light. The album, as a whole, is missing one key element that made Jimmy Eat World successful in the past, a hard hitting rock song.

The first single from the new album is also the first track of the disc, “Big Casino.” The song really reflects what Jimmy Eat World has done successfully on past albums: rock, distinct vocals, and creative lyrics. It falls short just slightly. In “Big Casino,” the band sings about drinking, kids, and living life, common themes in Jimmy lyrics. The song brings Jimmy Eat World to Jersey singing, “I’m the one who gets away, I’m a New Jersey success story. And they’ll say ‘Lord, give me a chance to shake that hand.” Interestingly enough, Jimmy Eat World is not from New Jersey. The album is very bouncy and has more of a pop sound.

The album is certainly one that has listeners bobbing their heads to the beat but that may be its downfall. One area Jimmy Eat World has excelled in throughout their previous albums is their mellow rock tracks like “Hear You Me.” This song is by far the strangest track on the album. Some listeners might have difficulty accepting the mellow and eerie.

The album attempts to have success with the mellow title-track, “Chase This Light.” Even this tune has you bopping your head. Unfortunately it will be bopping to a beat that is just a little too fast to really live up to the potential this song has. “Carry You” is the most respectable track on the disc. Vocally it’s strong, lyrically it is powerful, and musically it exemplifies the talent Jimmy Eat World has. It’s a slower track that is not driven solely by the drums. The vocals seem to really drive the song.

“Here it Goes” is a fun track but it’s not what Jimmy Eat World fans of the past are going to like very much. This song, like the rest on the album, is more of a pop tune than the rock so many Jimmy fans has come to love. “Dizzy” is an other track that has potential and is one of the songs that need to be listened to three or four times and then it will be truly appreciated.

The band certainly evolved during the three year rest from the music world and came back having grown and changed. It’s still up to debate as to whether fans are going to receive this new change with open arms.

Download: “Dizzy” and “Here It Goes.”
Now Recruiting!

EDITOR IN CHIEF 2008

Applicants must:

- Have prior involvement with design or editing
- Graduate December 2008 or later
- Be a full-time student

*Applications are now available in the Information Booth on the first floor of the Student Center. Completed applications are due on Friday November 9th by 3PM to Student Activities. For questions or concerns, please email to yearbook@monmouth.edu.
New Jersey Community Water Watch

NJ COMMUNITY WATER WATCH CHAPTERS CLEANING UP LAKE MATAWAN FOR MAKE A DIFFERENCE DAY.

WHAT: The Monmouth University and Brookdale Community College Chapters of New Jersey Community Water Watch are celebrating Make a Difference Day with a cleanup on Lake Matawan. Volunteers will go on foot and in kayaks to clean up various areas including Little St. and Aberdeen Rd., which border the lake.

WHEN: Saturday, October 27, 2007, 12 p.m. to 3 p.m.
Nooon – arrival and sign-in 12:30 p.m. – free food and speakers
1:00 p.m. to 3:00 – cleanup

WHERE: Volunteers will meet at the Matawan Municipal Community Center on Broad St.

WHO: NJ Community Water Watch is a joint project of the New Jersey Public Interest Research Group (NJPIRG) and AmeriCorps, dedicated to improving local waterways through education and service. The Monmouth University and Brookdale Community College chapters of the NJPIRG’s Community Water Watch will be joined by other campus and community groups (TBA). Speakers kicking off the day include Assemblywoman Amy Handlin from District 13.

HOW: Groups and individuals interested in participating should sign up by registering online at http://www.njwaterwatch.org/monmouth/make_a_difference_day or contact the Monmouth University Chapter office at (732) 263-5753 or e-mail monmouth@njwaterwatch.org. Or contact the Brookdale Community College Chapter office at bcc@njwaterwatch.org.

Shadow Nation

Hey Monmouth! Well Homecoming and the last few weeks have been a great success for Shadow Nation, and that is all thanks to our members. We just have a few announcements for this week. We have a Shadow Nation game on Friday, October 26, 2007, so make sure you come out. The Shadow Nation committee will also be tabling on October 30th at the RSSC. If you still need a T-Shirt, they will be arriving soon so keep checking your emails. If you still owe money or need a new card, come to our table on October 30th, 2007 to pay or get your new card and free stuff. If you still want to sign up to become a member of Shadow Nation make sure you come to our table on the 30th as well. Some things to keep an eye out for will be our special Shadow Nation games for the Men’s Ice Hockey Team. We will be hosting a few games to help support our players and these dates will be emailed to the Shadow Nation members once verified. Any questions? You can email us at Shadownation@monmouth.edu. And don’t forget to check back regularly for updates about what we are doing and when we are doing it. And check out the website www.gohawks.com

Talk to you soon!
The Shadow Nation Committee

Alpha Xi Delta

The ladies of Alpha Xi Delta have been busy this past weekend, contributing to a whole weekend of activities and community service. The ladies started the weekend off with a fun filled retreat hosted by their sister Lastny. Lastny did an awesome job! The ladies continued the weekend by participating in the Big Event on Saturday. They helped garden at a local church in Long Branch. They ended the weekend on a strong point by attending the kick off event for Up Till Dawn, a charity project that helps to raise money for St. Jude’s Children Hospital. The ladies of Alpha Xi Delta contributed by writing over 100 letters and wearing colorful shirts to show their pride and excitement for the event. Keep an eye on this space for more Alpha Xi Delta updates, or check out our Facebook profile Interested in Joining Alpha Xi Delta. Much Xi Love to everyone! <3

Delta Phi Epsilon

Thank you to all my sisters! Without you behind me I wouldn’t be able to be so strong! Love you, GLISSAdE. Great job this weekend girls! I’m so proud! Pseud-I think your cast is hot! Twinky-love your gorgeous smile, keep it! You’re all amazing, Vogue! Hey Aloha-Rosie misses your life! Oh twinnny you’re so fine, you’re so find you blow my mind <3 sPectaC! Big, nice cast. Still obsessed with you. TWIN you’re my heart. Sisters, I love you all. -3 uDelia. Good job with community service this weekend! So much fun with all my sisters. I love my big. -3 HEBESS. Happy Birthday! Deeper trio I love my little and year Don-nie <3 HARMONI. I had an amazing weekend with all of you girls! I can’t wait for more to come. Happy Birthday to the TRIO! Love always, Fabulous.

PRSSA

The Public Relations Society of America will be hosting a winter clothing drive at Monmouth University from October 29 to November 2, 2007. There will be boxes available at the Rebecca Stafford Student Center in front of the information desk and in the Jules L. Plangere Jr. Center in the faculty office where donations of coats, gloves, hats, scarves, etc. can be made. There will also be a table set up in the Student Center on October 29, 2007 from 10:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. where one can also donate. All proceeds will go to the Long Branch public school system and benefit families in the surrounding communities.

Please contact Kelli Callandrello at sbrown@monmouth.edu or Lisa Mutnick at s0651212@monmouth.edu.

Local Outreach:

Interested in donating a games, gift certificats, MU Hawk items, etc, to the Long Branch Middle School Incentive Program, contact Sandy Brown at sbrown@monmouth.edu.

Pep Band

3rd Floor of the Student Center
Wednesday 10/24
Thursday 10/25
Bar Poker League at The Brighton Bar

121 Brighton Ave., West End

Every Tuesday, starting Sept. 11.

Two seatings: 7:00pm & 9:00pm

Accumulate Points, Win Weekly Prizes, Gift Certificates

10 Week Tournament
Grand Prize Free Stay Atlantic City Casino with Dinner for Two
Must be 21 to enter & play

Dirty Water Hot Dogs
Drink & Beer Specials

---

Catholic Centre at Monmouth

Please join us every week!

Mass
Sunday at 7 p.m.

Eucharistic Adoration
Mondays 3-4pm

All Saints Day Mass
Thursday, Nov. 1st at 12 noon in Wilson Auditorium

Bible Study
Wed. @ 7:30PM

All are Welcome

www.mucatholic.org

Watch for our special events during the semester!

Food always served!
Catholic Centre at Monmouth University,
16 Beechwood Avenue
Gate to our house is located in the rear corner of Lot 4, next to the Health Center.

Call us at 732-229-9300

---

Child Care needed in my home for infant twins. 3-4 Days a week. 6-7 hours per day beginning Dec. 1st.

Call Christine at: 732-542-2468 or 732-610-3035

---

PO/D/4/2/12

R O O M S  F O R  R E N T !

$625 a month

Utilities Included

Located next door to Woods Theater

West Long Branch

Please call:

732-642-9665

---

ATTENTION STUDENTS

Earn while you learn - $10/hr.

Pick your hours. Open 7 days a week.

Local Ocean office.

1-888-974-5627

---

Electric Beach

Colblestone Village
611 West Ave. • Ocean, Nj
732-493-9010

Spray Tanning

Available $30.00 per session

$29.00 Monthly Unlimited!

No session fees

$5.00 per individual tanning session

Discounted tanning packages

*must show ID for discount

Exp. October 31st, 2007

---

P/T job.

Great money, flexible hours, easy tasks.

Possible long-term employment.

http://www.neumannassociates.com/jobs.cfm

---

孙

Phlebotomy for NJ Department of Health.

License, Transportation, & Insurance Provided.

No experience needed. Schedule flexible.

Call 732-229-9300

---

Bar Poker League at The Brighton Bar

121 Brighton Ave., West End

Every Tuesday, starting Sept. 11.

Two seatings: 7:00pm & 9:00pm

Accumulate Points, Win Weekly Prizes, Gift Certificates

10 Week Tournament
Grand Prize Free Stay Atlantic City Casino with Dinner for Two
Must be 21 to enter & play

Dirty Water Hot Dogs
Drink & Beer Specials

---

Catholic Centre at Monmouth

Please join us every week!

Mass
Sunday at 7 p.m.

Eucharistic Adoration
Mondays 3-4pm

All Saints Day Mass
Thursday, Nov. 1st at 12 noon in Wilson Auditorium

Bible Study
Wed. @ 7:30PM

All are Welcome

www.mucatholic.org

Watch for our special events during the semester!

Food always served!
Catholic Centre at Monmouth University,
16 Beechwood Avenue
Gate to our house is located in the rear corner of Lot 4, next to the Health Center.

Call us at 732-229-9300

---

Child Care needed in my home for infant twins. 3-4 Days a week. 6-7 hours per day beginning Dec. 1st.

Call Christine at: 732-542-2468 or 732-610-3035

---

PO/D/4/2/12

R O O M S  F O R  R E N T !

$625 a month

Utilities Included

Located next door to Woods Theater

West Long Branch

Please call:

732-642-9665

---

ATTENTION STUDENTS

Earn while you learn - $10/hr.

Pick your hours. Open 7 days a week.

Local Ocean office.

1-888-974-5627
October 24, 2007

The Outlook

COMICS N MORE

Horoscopes

By Linda C. Black, Tribune Media Services

Today’s Birthday (Oct. 24).

Consider the temptation to buy everything you want this year. You can do that later, after your investments start paying off.

To get the advantage, check the day’s rating: 10 is the easiest day, 0 the most challenging.

Aries (Mar. 21 - April 19) - Today is a 7

You’re excited, but it’s important to maintain control. Name, rank and serial number. That’s it.

Taurus (April 20 - May 20) - Today is a 7

No need to share your research with anyone, yet. Keep collecting data. Do ask for help in other areas of your life. Make time to study.

Gemini (May 21 - June 21) - Today is a 6

A controversy erupts, which you’d just as soon avoid. Let the others argue it out, and don’t let them step on you.

Leo (July 23 - Aug. 22) - Today is a 6

You’re starting to get lots of new ideas. Don’t race off quite yet. It is just the beginning of a very imaginative phase. Make lists, postpone action.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 23) - Today is a 6

You’ve been holding back a lot of what you’ve been thinking. Do that a while longer, if you want to avoid controversy. If you don’t care, let ‘er rip.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21) - Today is a 8

Work’s required, but you should be well paid for your efforts. Do it quickly and you might even get a bonus.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21) Today is a 6

Herd an old friend’s advice when it comes to romantic matters. You don’t have to learn everything from your own experience.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19) Today is a 7

Don’t go racing to the mall to get something you don’t need. Just because it’s on sale isn’t a good enough excuse.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18) Today is a 7

It just got a little bit easier for you to achieve your goals. This applies especially to those you’ve had for a while. Check off a few before you start on the new stuff.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20) Today is a 7

More money’s coming your way, without your doing much more work. It looks like you’re getting a raise or a better job. If that’s not happening in your life, apply for something quick.

Crossword

ACROSS

1. Shiede
6. Iowa City
10. Spree
14. Navratilova’s rival
15. Feeble, excusively
16. Fencing sword
17. Flood shield
18. Lena of “Chocolat”
19. Rozelle or Rose
20. Pregnancy thirds
21. Pittfall
22. Take one’s pick
24. Stares in installments
26. Hollywood hopeful
31. Actor Mineo
32. Thole insert
33. Medoma role
35. Abominable snowmen
39. Jocations
41. Beige shades
43. Middling
44. Dance parts
46. African nation
48. Former stock-ticker
49. Cruces, NM
51. Sports breaks
53. Short races
57. Prickly husk
58. Horse’s pace
59. Hepatitines
65. Tiber city
66. “Damn Yankees” town
67. Fictional
68. Montague
69. Terrible czar?
70. Male cats
71. Body of water
72. Feed the hogs
73. Infamous
DOWN
1. Thaw
2. Above
3. Parking lot of “Hello, Dolly!”
4. Nervous vibration
5. Tapping tower
6. Tons and tons
7. Drake or bull
8. Arab leaders
9. Feels
10. Snakes and lizards
11. Pianist’s work
12. Silver, gold or nickel
13. Chick calls
14. Martin or Allen
15. Beam
16. Blubbers
17. Stretched tight
18. Comic Johnson
19. Muscle twinges
20. Walk proudly
21. German automaker
22. Vegan fare
23. “She Lovely”
24. Your brothers to your father
25. Separated lineman
26. Brazilian dance
27. In duplicate time
28. Diago
29. Impartial
30. Wading birds
31. Baltimore batter
32. Bacon unit
34. Utah city
35. Kind of candle
36. Seat at a bar

Solutions to last week’s crossword

MU Students: Interested in Comic Illustration?

Get your own comic published in the Outlook!

Dream Nation

by Louis Coppola

P.S. The Fat One’s Name?

Welcome to Follying Rock National Park. By Josh Sheftick

Paul

by Billy O’Keefe

Mr. Bill.com/Paul

Paul

October 24, 2007

© 2007 Tribune Media Services, Inc.
All rights reserved.
It's horseracing's biggest event, it's only minutes away, and it's free. The Breeders' Cup World Championships at Monmouth Park. Show your student ID at the gate on Friday to get in free. And, five college attendees will win a $1,000 scholarship and $1,000 gift certificate to shop at Theory. Sure beats your typical Friday afternoon.

WORLD-CLASS ENTERTAINMENT ON A COLLEGE BUDGET.

GET IN FREE WITH YOUR COLLEGE ID.

It's horseracing's biggest event, it's only minutes away, and it's free. The Breeders' Cup World Championships at Monmouth Park. Show your student ID at the gate on Friday to get in free. And, five college attendees will win a $1,000 scholarship and $1,000 gift certificate to shop at Theory. Sure beats your typical Friday afternoon.

MONMOUTH PARK
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26th
BREEDERSCUP.COM
ONCOR entertainment and the @CT! Theatre Company Proudly Present a POAC Benefit Performance of the new original musical...

Featuring
HELP!
Hard Day's Night
Eleanor Rigby
If I Fell
Day Tripper
Paperback Writer
Nowhere Man
Yesterday
I Want To Hold Your Hand
Let It Be
All My Loving
A Day in the Life
We Can Work It Out
Hello, Goodbye
Come Together
Here Comes The Sun
My Guitar Gently Weeps
Long and Winding Road

One Night Only!
at the
POLLAK Theatre
Monmouth University
West Long Branch, NJ

Saturdays, Nov. 10th
$25.00 732-792-3281
www.RockForADifference.org

Ticket price includes Pre-show Reception & Gift Auction starting at 6:30pm. Performance to follow at 8:00pm. Proceeds to benefit Parents Of Autistic Children, (www.POAC.net) the leading education provider for the AUTISM Community.
What are you being for Halloween this year?

COMPILED BY: JACQUELYN BODMER

Eric
senior
“It’s a secret.”

Stephanie
junior
“A twisted board.”

Lauryn
junior
“A pirate.”

Sean
junior
“Nothing, I have work.”

Steve sophomore
“A ninja”

Katie
junior “Cheerleader”

Amanda
senior “Nothing”

Chris
sophomore
“The Saw guy”

Beth super senior “Robin Hood”

Casey
senior “Raggedy Ann”

GET INVOLVED IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES!!

732-571-3586 • 2nd Floor, Rebecca Stafford Student Center • activities@monmouth.edu

Campus Events This Week

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24
Body Fat and Body Weight Analysis • 8:00 AM • Fitness Center
More Self than Self • 2:30 PM • Young Auditorium
Halloween Ball • 7:00 PM • Anacon Hall

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25
Film and Panel Discussion - Ennis’ Gift • 2:30 PM • Magill Club 107/108
Halloween Party and Pumpkin Carving • 7:30 PM • Catholic Center

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26
Hairstyle Trip • Depart 3 PM • From Student Center Lot (SOLD OUT)
Men’s Soccer vs. Central Connecticut • 3:00 PM • Great Lawn
Breeder’s Cup Celebration Events - Contact x3473 to VOLUNTEER
Faculty Exhibition • 7:00 PM • Ice House Art Gallery
MU Ice Hawks vs. Stockton College • 8:30 PM • Wall Sports Arena

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27
Hershey Park in the Dark Trip • Depart 10:00 AM • Tickets on sale in OSA

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 28
Men’s Soccer vs. Umpquaic University • 1:00 PM • Great Lawn

MONDAY, OCTOBER 29
Safezone Workshop (#1 - 10:00 AM; #2 - 1:00 PM • e-mail hkelly@monmouth.edu to participate
Philosophy Phil Phorn on Values - Shadowbox • 7:25 PM • Turell

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30
Backstage Tour of Metropolitan Opera • Contact 263-5738 for details
Film - I am Sam • 7:30 PM • Young Auditorium
Teller’s Halloween Horrorthest • Look for Details • Pollak Theatre

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31
Pre-Professional Health Careers Meeting • 2:30 PM • Wilson Auditorium
Texas Hold ‘em Tournament • 7:30 PM • RSSC Cafeteria

CONGRATULATIONS TO:
LAMBDA THETA ALPHA SORORITY, INC.
for reaching the OVERALL FIVE-STAR Rating Level for the 2006-2007 Greek Challenge Interested in volunteering?
How about helping out those in crisis?

The Rape Care Program of 180 Turning Lives Around has received numerous community service awards for their dedication to victims of sexual assault in Monmouth County. 180 Rape Care Advocates are certified members of the Monmouth County Sexual Assault Response Team, and generously volunteer their time helping victims in crisis.

We need your help.

Currently, the Rape Care Program is looking for men and women of all backgrounds to join their Rape Care Advocate team. Participate in a 50-hour training, to become an Advocate and member of the Sexual Assault Response Team (SART) of Monmouth County. It includes areas of sexual assault awareness, crisis intervention, hotline counseling, the medical/legal/emotional needs of a sexual assault survivor, and the Criminal Justice System in relation to sexual assault.

We will begin training on Saturday, January 19th, 2008 and continue for six consecutive Saturdays (1/26, 2/2, 2/9, 2/16, 2/23, and 3/1). Sessions will be held from 9 am – 4 pm. The training will be held at the Little Silver Women’s Center at the intersection of Rumson Road and Church Street (not to be confused with Church Lane). Interested parties should call 732-264-4433. Please slowly and clearly leave your name, address, telephone number and email address, and an application and information packet will be mailed to you.

(Please be advised that acceptance of registration does not ensure admittance into the program.)

Make an impact…
Become an Advocate.
Men Take Two

Hawks survive at FDU 2-1 in OT, win at Sacred Heart 1-0

ERIC WALSH
SPORTS EDITOR

The men’s soccer team improved their record to 10-2-2 with wins at FDU and Sacred Heart over the weekend. With the victories, the Hawks remain perfect in NEC play and were recently named the top team in the North Atlantic region.

For the second consecutive weekend the Blue and White went unbeaten in two games over the span of three days. This weekend the team was able to conquer the Knights of FDU 2-1 in overtime and then traveled to Sacred Heart where they pulled off a close 1-0 victory.

On Friday afternoon against FDU, in what was listed as poor weather FDU, in what was listed as poor weather the sixth minute freshman Ryan Kinne scored his third goal of the season off an assist from Tom Gray. The assist was Gray’s fifth of the year.

The Knights tied the match in the 47th minute when Rodrigo Cazulas Costa was fouled inside the 18-yard box. Samson Maljanci took the penalty kick for FDU and beat Daniel Schenkel into the bottom right corner of the net for his eighth goal of the season.

With just seven minutes left in the match, defender Daniel Bostock sent a long kick down to Damon Wilson, who went one on one with the FDU goalkeeper to score from 10 yards out. The goal for Wilson was his team-leading sixth of the year and the assist was the first of the year for Bostock.

The squad traveled to Sacred Heart on Sunday where they came away with a close 1-0 triumph to improve their NEC record to 5-0. The win also marked the sixth consecutive victory for the team.

The game’s only goal came in the 35th minute when junior Andreas Klang connected on a 25-yard free kick that lifted the Hawks to victory. The free kick was set up by a Sacred Heart foul. Klang cleared a wall of Pioneer defenders and sent the ball sailing into the upper right corner of the net just over the fingers of goalie Matt Jones. The goal was Klang’s second in just three games.

One of the most important statistics of the game was Sacred Heart’s 25 fouls which greatly outnumber Monmouth’s 7 infractions. Sacred Heart also out shot Monmouth 14-12, which led to four saves from Schenkel.

“The guys showed a lot of character this weekend to get two road victories, against two very good teams,” said head coach Robert McCourt. “We’ve been dealing with some injury adversity, so to get these points is important for us.”

With their stellar overall record, the Monmouth men move to first place in the North Atlantic Regional poll with NEC foe Quinnipiac. The Blue and White are also receiving votes in the NSCAA/Adidas poll. Monmouth will host Central Connecticut State on Friday, October 26 at 3 p.m.

Outlook’s Weekly NFL Picks - Week 8

Eric

New York Giants
Buffalo Bills
Philadelphia Eagles
Indianapolis Colts
Chicago Bears
Washington Redskins
Pittsburgh Steelers
Cincinnati Bengals
San Francisco 49ers

Away
(3-2 Last WK)
(40-16 Overall)
(5-3 Last WK)
(35-21 Overall)
(5-3 Last WK)
(35-21 Overall)
(3-2 Last WK)
(30-22 Overall)

(35-21 Overall)

(34-22 Overall)

(40-16 Overall)

(38-18 Overall)

(35-21 Overall)

"Our players most definitely look up to Christie..."

KRISSY TURNER
Head Coach Women’s Soccer

Former MU Women’s Soccer Star Plays in FIFA World Cup

Rampon continued from pg. 22
every day,” said Rampone.

In group play, the United States opened their tournament with a 2-2 tie with North Korea. Following that result, they shutout Sweden 2-0 and posted a 1-0 win over Nigeria. Those results were in order of the United States to win their group and move on to the quarterfinals where they once again shutout their opponent. This time it was a 5-0 blanking of England.

In the next round, however, the team met their match when they took on Brazil. With everything seemingly going wrong, the Americans lost 4-0 to the Brazilians.

Amidst that loss was a controversy involving the head coach’s decision to bench starting goalkeeper Hope Solo in favor of veteran Brianna Scurry. The decision was discussed leading up to the game and infuriated Solo to the point of criticizing the decision in a post-game interview.

The team was able to move past the loss and in their next game they defeated Norway, another early favorite to win the tournament, by a score of 4-0 to finish third overall in the FIFA Women’s World Cup.

“The World Cup was a learning experience. We’re disappointed we didn’t reach our goal to win the tournament. However, I’m proud of the way the team finished,” said Rampone.

While Rampone was representing the United States in China, the host for the event, she was also representing Monmouth University and the young women who are part of the soccer team.

“The recognition that Christie Rampone brings to all players who don’t, or didn’t, play for one of the top programs in the country is that it is possible through hard work, opportunity, and desire to reach the elite level of athletics coming from any program throughout the country,” said Turner. “Our players most definitely look up to Christie and are proud to say they are from the region.”

While allowing others to set goals for themselves, she has also opened the eyes of some who otherwise wouldn’t have paid attention to women’s soccer.

“Our interest in women’s World Cup soccer is exponentially increased by the contributions of one of our own, Christie Rampone,” said Monmouth Athletic Director Dr. Marilyn McNeil. “But even more important is the superior role model that she generates for all Monmouth county girls and women.”

How a small school like Monmouth, consisting of about 4,200 undergraduates, can produce a world class athlete is a credit to the coaches that have roamed the Monmouth Athletics Hall of Fame.

Rampone for one agrees and is thankful for the coaches she came across while attending the tiny school in West Long Branch. “Monmouth has shaped me into the player I am today. [Former] Coach Vandehaak believed in my abilities and set a great environment for me to grow. I came across while attending the coaches that have roamed the Monmouth Athletics Hall of Fame.”

While allowing others to set goals for themselves, she has also opened the eyes of some who otherwise wouldn’t have paid attention to women’s soccer.

“Our interest in women’s World Cup soccer is exponentially increased by the contributions of one of our own, Christie Rampone,” said Monmouth Athletic Director Dr. Marilyn McNeil. “But even more important is the superior role model that she generates for all Monmouth county girls and women.”
Come out and cheer on your Monmouth University IceHawks Hockey Team.

Your MU IceHawks went 15 and 3 last year, finishing 2nd in the Delaware Valley Collegiate Hockey Conference. This season will be action-packed with lots to cheer for, so mark your calendars and don’t miss any of the action.

IceHawks t-shirts and programs are available for sale at every home game that is played at the Wall Sports Arena. 1215 Wyckoff Road, Farmingdale, NJ (732-919-7070). Lots of extra give-aways and prizes will be available at these special events:

- Fri., October 5th: Alumni Game (with NHL Prizes): Take a break before exams, and come watch as your current IceHawks team takes on some great players from the past in an exhibition game on Friday, December 14th at 9:00 PM. Your admission ticket stub will be entered into a drawing for door prizes given away during intermission (Bose headphones, t-shirts and more).
- Nov. 11th: Alumni Game (with NHL Prizes)
- Alumni Game (with NHL Prizes): Take a break before exams, and come watch as your current IceHawks team takes on some great players from the past in an exhibition game on Friday, December 14th at 9:00 PM. There will be a skills competition before the game and door prizes for NHL Tickets. Autographed Memorabilia, Great Collectibles and Gifts

The Outlook October 24, 2007

SPORTS

A Word on Sports

The College Football Blog

ALEXANDER TRANCULE

In the college football world the year 2007 will forever be remembered as the year of the upset. Whether it was Appalachian State’s victory over Michigan in Ann Arbor (don’t think I will ever let Whitey fans forget that) and has continued into this weekend with the likes of Vanderbilt knocking off South Carolina in the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the nation at this time is the number six team in the nation (though any team called the Game Cocks doesn’t deserve to be ranked that high anyway). College football fans are being introduced to parody, a concept not seen in the past. The number two team in the na-

GREAT THINGS COME IN PAIRS

Things are twice as sweet as the Hawks soccer team go two for two for the second weekend in a row.

Story on Page 22