

“Performance Rights” include home viewing, library use, and face-to-face educational use in a classroom setting, as well as the right to show the film in a public setting when the viewers are not charged a fee.