regulations we decided not to demonstrate and set up tables in order to voice our opinion. We hope the administration will see that we are not a group of radicals trying to destroy the framework of the college, but it is wishful that a change be made quickly so the independent students may have a voice here as do the students of other rep $utable\ academic\ in \textbf{s} titution \textbf{s}.$

Although we were unable to have a say at the college many of us represented our feelings at the Mobilization to end the War in Viet Nam at the U.N.

L. M. Cohn

Saturday the 15th of April. Robert Kaminsky Larry Hurewitz Ronald Sackowitz Robert Field Stettner

M.C. Doves Seen Apathetic

As To the Editor:

On April 11, 1967, a table was set up in the Great Hall advocating victory in Viet Nam. We were shocked to see a number of Monmouth College students supporting the escalation of the war in Viet Nam. We agree that everyone in our society has the right to speak his mind, but our society fails when only one mind is spoken. We feel that the other side of the question of war or peace should have been represented. This opposition was not present. Is it just that we have Hawks at Monmouth or is it that the Doves are too apathetic to stand up for what they believe? We tried to stand up, but do to administrative policy, we as students who are unaffiliated with any administration approved organization were unable to stand up for what we believe. This feeling is not stated without fact, for we have spoken to Mr. Smith about the situation, and we were pleased to hear from him that he is fighting for a change in the College policy. Abiding by school